Men's Soccer Player Prospect Day at Adams State College

Hello everyone,

As head coach for the Adams State men's soccer program, I am writing to invite you to come visit our college. Adams State College is located in Alamosa, Colorado. Alamosa has numerous outdoor activities to take part in, including skiing, hiking, mountain biking, kayaking, rock climbing, rafting, hunting, fishing and much more. We are a NCAA Division II school that competes in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference, the most competitive league in the country. We offer a small college atmosphere with a lot of individual attention. Our college has approximately 3,500 students and offers first class educational and athletic facilities. Our newly built and remodeled campus offers wireless internet and cable in all living quarters. Adams State College is a great place to earn your degree while playing soccer.

I have numerous players expressing interest across the country to come and be part of the Grizzly family. Unfortunately, I can't see every player who has expressed interest. Therefore we will be holding – Player Prospect Day on Saturday August 6th, for boy's that are in high school or graduated from high school. The camp itinerary is as scheduled. We strongly encourage recruits interested in Adams State College to attend. This is your chance to see what Adams State has to offer and for us to get a good look at you. If chosen to play for Adams State, realize that our school does offer athletic scholarships.
